

Move past the era of spreadsheets and siloed portals.

Eliminate the frustration of managing your suppliers' data and simplify your procurement process with graphite™Connect.

THE PROBLEM

Procurement suffers from confusing, inflexible, and time wasting solutions.

The procurement industry is bogged down by endless supplier surveys and constantly out-of-date spreadsheets. Current solutions are no help as their data is sequestered into disconnected silos and require a large amount of administrative work to manage data.

Procurement teams, tasked with chasing suppliers and manually updating their master vendor data, spend hours, budget, and human resources on tasks that bring little value to the company. As a company's supplier network grows, so do the hours needed to spend managing supplier data.

THE SOLUTION

Suppliers own their data, saving you time, money, and frustration.

Frustrated by these archaic and costly approaches, our vision is to simplify how companies connect and transact with one another. Architected around the power of social networks, graphite™Connect allows companies to harness the speed and ease of one-to-many relationships. Buyers no longer own the responsibility or cost of updating supplier data and no time is wasted chasing survey responses.

Joining graphite™Connect enables quick supplier onboarding, central connection administration, easy data and risk management, as well as full supplier lifecycle management.

A best-of-class solution designed with the power of social networks.

Current business process

graphiteConnect process

Benefits of graphiteConnect

- Quick onboarding
- No redundant onboarding surveys
- Businesses manage and control their own supplier data
- Secure, accurate bank and tax data
- Simplified regulatory compliance
- Better risk management

Simple. Standardized. Secure.

Secure environment

Fully compliant to Payment Card Industry (PCI) information security standards, and supports both single sign on (SSO) and two-factor authentication.

Easier compliance reviews

Set reminders to follow up on key concerns with suppliers and quickly collaborate with internal teams, external teams, or both.

Fast implementation

No complicated setup or professional services required. Companies can begin connecting with existing networks immediately.

Universal profiles

Customizable profiles built with industry-agnostic data makes it easy to eliminate archaic onboarding surveys and connect faster than ever before.

Many-to-many network

Companies manage their own profiles and share data at their discretion. Teams get notifications and stay up-to-date as information changes.

Easy data export

Organizations can easily extract and automatically update key data in their ERP vendor master or other system.